What is a Cisco Training Bootcamp?

Cisco Training Bootcamps offer intensive training for individuals and small teams. They include 9 days of instructor-led training, self-paced training, and instructor-led review sessions over 8 weeks. Cisco Training Bootcamps help you ramp up your IT skills to meet new challenges in the industry and confidently implement innovative solutions in your environment.

How do Cisco Training Bootcamps work?

During the Bootcamp, your team will:

- Receive a kick-off document with self-study prerequisite materials to help you get a head start and prepare for the training

- Attend a 5-day instructor-led class that focuses on crucial foundational concepts

- Receive self-study materials to reinforce the knowledge from the 5-day training and help you prepare for the deep-dive lab

- Participate in 4-day virtual instructor-led deep-dive labs with hands-on training to build your confidence and skills

- Receive office hours support using a Webex space
